ASSISTANT OR ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF MUSIC EDUCATION

Description: The Music Department at Mason Gross School of the Arts, Rutgers University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in Music Education at the Assistant or Associate Professor level. Candidates should demonstrate a high potential for success in scholarship and teaching in the field and already have an active publication record.

Duties: The successful candidate will teach classes in Music Education at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Preference will be given to those with expertise in general music education.

Qualifications: An advanced degree is required; a doctorate is preferred. Experience in K-12 education is required.

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor, tenure-track.

Salary: Commensurate with experience.

Starting Date: The appointment carries a full-time, ten-month contract to commence September 1, 2016.

Deadline: The committee will begin reading applications on January 15, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

Candidates should provide a cover letter, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, and samples of work, which may include creative work, publications, and other documentation of achievement in the field.

Please send all materials electronically to:
William Berz,
Chair of the Search Committee
c/o Diane Amato
Music Department/Mason Gross School of the Arts/Rutgers University
damato@masongross.rutgers.edu

Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, is a leading public research university with an enrollment of 37,000 students on its New Brunswick campus. The Mason Gross School of the Arts, with 1,100 students, is dedicated to professional programs in the arts at graduate and undergraduate levels, and to fulfilling the liberal arts missions of its constituent departments: Music, Theater, Dance, and Visual Arts. The Department of Music offers the BM, MM, MA, AD, DMA, and PhD degrees. Additional information is available at the school website: www.masongross.rutgers.edu.