Position in Choral Music and Choral Music Education

Description and Duties: The Music Department at Mason Gross School of the Arts, Rutgers University, invites applications for a full-time position in Choral Music and Choral Music Education to begin fall 2016. Duties include directing one of the four major choral ensembles offered by the Department of Music (the Voorhees or University Choir), teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in secondary choral music education, choral music, and/or music education appropriate to the applicant’s expertise, and working with the Director of Choral Activities to recruit non-majors for the ensembles. A critical component of the position will be outreach to the high-school programs of the state and region for recruitment of vocal performance and music education majors. Active involvement in ACDA and NAfME at the state and regional level is expected.

Qualifications: Required: master’s degree. Preferred: doctorate, 5 years public high-school teaching.

Rank: Assistant Professor, tenure track or professional practice (non-tenure track, multi-year).

Salary: Commensurate with experience.

Starting Date: The appointment carries a full-time, ten-month contract to commence September 1, 2016.

Deadline: The committee will begin reading applications on January 15, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. Candidates should provide a cover letter, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, links to video recordings of their work on the podium in both rehearsal and performance, and links to or audio files of three representative samples of their work in concert.

Please send all materials electronically, with the subject line “Choral Music Education,” to the search committee c/o Diane Amato at: damato@masongross.rutgers.edu.

Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, is a leading public research university with an enrollment of 37,000 students on its New Brunswick campus. The Mason Gross School of the Arts, with 1,100 students, is dedicated to professional programs in the arts at graduate and undergraduate levels, and to fulfilling the liberal arts missions of its constituent departments: Music, Theater, Dance and Visual Arts. The Department of Music offers the BM, MM, MA, AD, DMA, and PhD degrees. Additional information is available at the school website: www.masongross.rutgers.edu.

Rutgers is an affirmative-action, equal-opportunity employer.