MASON GROSS SCHOOL OF THE ARTS

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC - GRADUATE PROGRAM

REGISTRATION

A. Plan to meet with your advisor, Professor Chrisman to select your courses. Newly admitted DMA, AD, and MM students should make appointments with the graduate office (732-932-8999) to see him after taking the diagnostic exam. It is strongly recommended that you take the Diagnostic Exam in JUNE, so you can meet with Prof. Chrisman to register in the summer. Before the meeting with Prof. Chrisman, look over the course catalog online at <http://catalogs.rutgers.edu/generated/mgsa/pg5841.html> (PERFORMANCE), and <http://ruweb.rutgers.edu/catalogs/nb-grad.shtml> (MUSICOLOGY/COMPOSITION). Realize, though, that with the exception of lessons (Performance Study) and Ensemble, many of the courses that you will take will depend on the results of the diagnostic test. These issues will be worked out during your meeting with Prof. Chrisman.

B. Newly admitted graduate students only register in person with Prof. Chrisman. After your appointment with him, he can fax your registration to the Graduate Registrar to submit your course numbers and credits; or you can go to the:

Graduate Registrar, Administrative Services Building
65 Davidson Road, Room 200F
Busch Campus

You will be billed within one week. Once initially registered, graduate students may use the computerized telephone registration system by calling 732-445-1999 and following the instructions or by registering on the web at: <https://sims.rutgers.edu/webreg>. You will need to use your ID number and Personal Access Code (PAC = day and month of your birthday; e.g March 19th = 0319).

C. If you are not prepared to take either or both of the diagnostic exams, you may still register for lessons, ensemble, and some of the literature courses, if they are still available, offered by the Department. You will still need to see Prof. Chrisman. Even if your registration is incomplete (perhaps only lessons and ensemble), it is best to register so that you can get your Rutgers ID, computer account, etc. These may be obtained at the various campus student centers (Douglass/Cook, Rutgers, Busch, Livingston). Other courses may then be filled in before or during the first week of the term.

HISTORY AND THEORY DIAGNOSTIC EXAMS JUNE 26, 2008 OR AUGUST 28, 2008

Please contact the graduate office to register: 732 932 8999

Music History Examination:

Before you will be allowed to register for any graduate level courses in music history you must pass the history portion of the Department's diagnostic exam. The tests MUST be taken prior to registration. The exam is based entirely on the lists of composers, works, and musical terms included with this mailing. All of these have been taken from the most recent edition of Grout-Palisca, A History of Western Music. The exam will consist of four sections:

- 20 composers: You will be asked to supply a date that falls within each composer's mature career. The date must be between the composer's 20th year and his/her death to be counted correct.
- 30 work titles: For each work you will be asked to name the composer and provide a date of composition. The date must be within 20 years to be counted correct.

MASON GROSS SCHOOL OF THE ARTS

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC - GRADUATE PROGRAM

- 20 terms/names/titles: You will be asked to define or identify each term in two or three sentences and to indicate the musical repertory and time period to which the term applies.
- An essay of 250-300 words on a general topic; the primary purpose of this essay is to test your ability to write coherently about music.

THE LIST OF ALL THE COMPOSERS/WORK TITLES/TERMS ARE POSTED ON THE WEBSITE:

<http://www.musicweb.rutgers.edu/DiagExam>

A passing score on sections 1-3 will be 80%. If you fail to achieve a score of 80% you will be allowed to retake the exam at the beginning of the following semester or at one of the scheduled times mid-semester. You may take the test up to three times until you pass, but you may not begin your graduate-level history courses until you do so. We urge you to undertake a serious review of the music history, using the included sheets as a guide. Otherwise you risk extending your stay in the program.

Music Theory Examination:

Before you will be allowed to register for any graduate level courses in music theory you must pass the theory portion of the Department's diagnostic exam. The tests MUST be taken prior to registration. The music theory portion of the diagnostic examination includes the following material:

- An exercise in 16th-century counterpoint (this portion is optional and won't be graded)
- Realization of figured bass;
- Roman numeral analysis;
- A short piece to analyze.

We strongly suggest you review using standard texts such as Tonal Harmony by Kostka and Payne or a standard harmony book such as the Aldwell/Schachter or Ottmann.

Jazz Studies Examination:

Students in the Jazz Studies programs are required to take a diagnostic examination that includes only the following:

- Identification of approximately twenty names, terms, and titles of compositions dealing with Western music from the Middle Ages to the present;
- Twenty questions concerning jazz musicians;
- An essay on jazz styles;
- Chord progressions with three, four, and five voices;
- Scale/chord relationships;
- Writing a blue progression incorporating chord substitutions;
- Writing the melody, chord changes, and improvisation for a jazz standard bebop composition.

ORCHESTRA AND ENSEMBLE AUDITION

Students are required to audition every semester for orchestra and ensembles. Please check the audition date/time, and the audition requirements at our website: <http://music.rutgers.edu/auditions>

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC - GRADUATE PROGRAM

GRADUATE PROGRAMS IN PERFORMANCE GUIDELINES ON ATTENDANCE AND PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITY

- 1. GRADUATE COURSES - Regular attendance is required in all graduate courses. An instructor may establish a specific policy on attendance at the beginning of the semester. Otherwise, the following guidelines normally apply:

Requests for absence from a class because of professional obligations (for example, participation in a major competition) will not normally be refused, provided that:

- a. The student notifies both the instructor and the Graduate Performance Program Director well in advance, preferably at the start of the semester;
- b. The student submits a request for absence to the Graduate Performance Program Director in writing, with appropriate documentation (when participating in outside events during the semester, the candidate should be sure that all programs and publicity make mention of the candidate's affiliation with the Rutgers Department of Music, Mason Gross School of the Arts. Upon return from outside engagements, copies of programs, certificates, or other official documentation should be submitted to the Director of the Graduate Performance Program.);
- c. A suitable agreement is worked out between student and instructor regarding material missed in the student's absence.

- 2. ENSEMBLE PARTICIPATION

- a. Attendance at ALL concerts and rehearsals is compulsory. There will be NO exceptions. It is expected that you carefully arrange your schedule at the beginning of the semester to ensure that no conflicts arise.
- b. Any unexcused absences will result in the penalty as stated in the course syllabus for each ensemble. Schedules will be provided at the beginning of each semester.
- c. In the event that an exceptional professional opportunity conflicts with any rehearsal, you may submit material outlining this opportunity to the conductor no later than the first week of each semester. If this opportunity is deemed exceptional by the conductor, then a release may be granted. The conductor's decision as to what constitutes the definition of an exceptional excuse is final.
- d. In the event of illness, students must provide a doctor's note attesting to the reason for the absence. (The above does not apply to performances, for which absences are not permitted.)

- 3. TEACHING - Students who have departmental teaching responsibilities must honor their professional obligations as instructors. Otherwise, their assistantships will be revoked. It must be understood that in teaching performance at beginning levels, where students cannot be expected to motivate and guide themselves effectively without direction, regular lessons are of utmost importance. It is the instructor's responsibility to arrange a regular schedule for lessons. It is especially important for the instructor to keep accurate records of how many lessons each student has had, and to report any attendance problems promptly.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC - GRADUATE PROGRAM

Problematic Grades

On your transcripts, given after the end of each term, you'll find the usual grades of A, B+, B, C+, C, and F, but you'll also sometimes find other possibilities. Below are most if not all of these other markings.

Problem	Action needed
1. NG or blank space where a grade should be: Here the professor failed to give you a grade at all. This could be due to oversight, a misplaced roster, a name on the wrong roster, etc.	1. See the professor for that course.
2. INC or incomplete: You did not complete the work required for the course. You have two semesters to make up this work. For times longer than that, INCs can sometimes be changed, but this is not guaranteed. School 16 courses (history and theory) courses definitely cannot be changed after a year. Often incompletes occur in independent studies because the DMA lecture recital hasn't been completed. Once completed, if in an acceptable time frame, the grade can be changed. It does not affect graduation, however, if it is not changed. What counts toward graduation is the completed of the lecture recital.	2. Finish the work and turn it in to the professor. The incomplete won't go away otherwise. After the year's deadline, you will have to register for the course again if it's required for graduation
3. Grades of F: You failed the course. This grade would have had to have been consciously given by the professor.	3. See the professor. You'll have to retake the course if it's required for graduation.
4. Grades less than B: In academic courses Masters of Music students can have one course whose grade is C or C+ count toward graduation, but no more. DMA or AD students must petition the School 08 Academic Standing Committee to have any academic course with a C or C+ counted toward graduation.	4. MMs are allowed one such grade. More than one C or C+ won't count toward graduation. DMAs must petition.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC - GRADUATE PROGRAM

For performance courses (lesson, ensemble) a grade less than a B will put you on probation. Subsequent grades lower than B can result in dismissal from the program.

5. An E prefix: Often our graduate undergraduate course for graduate (it must be a 300- or 400-level course). In signing up, somehow the prefix G, which should be attached to the course, is mistakenly written as E (no credit), possibly because of the phone system, mistyping, or computer programming glitches.

6. A K prefix: K credits are given when courses are taken before one is officially in a program. They are removed once the person has completed 12 credits at Rutgers or officially enrolls in a graduate program.

7. A W grade: Here you withdrew from the course after the deadline for withdrawal. The course does not count.

8. An N grade: This means the course was taken for no-credit. Sometimes the N shows up for no reason (unless you mistyped something).

5. For E credit, we usually catch take an these and change them. Your action credit is to make sure you write in the proper prefix when registering. If it's already there on the transcript, please see me and remind me to take care of it.

6. Remind us to take care of this.

7. The W will stay on your transcript. I personally do not feel that it will affect your future.

8. If you wanted to do the course for no credit, fine, just leave it. If you want credit, we'll have to have it changed. See me.
